Remember to Feed your AI

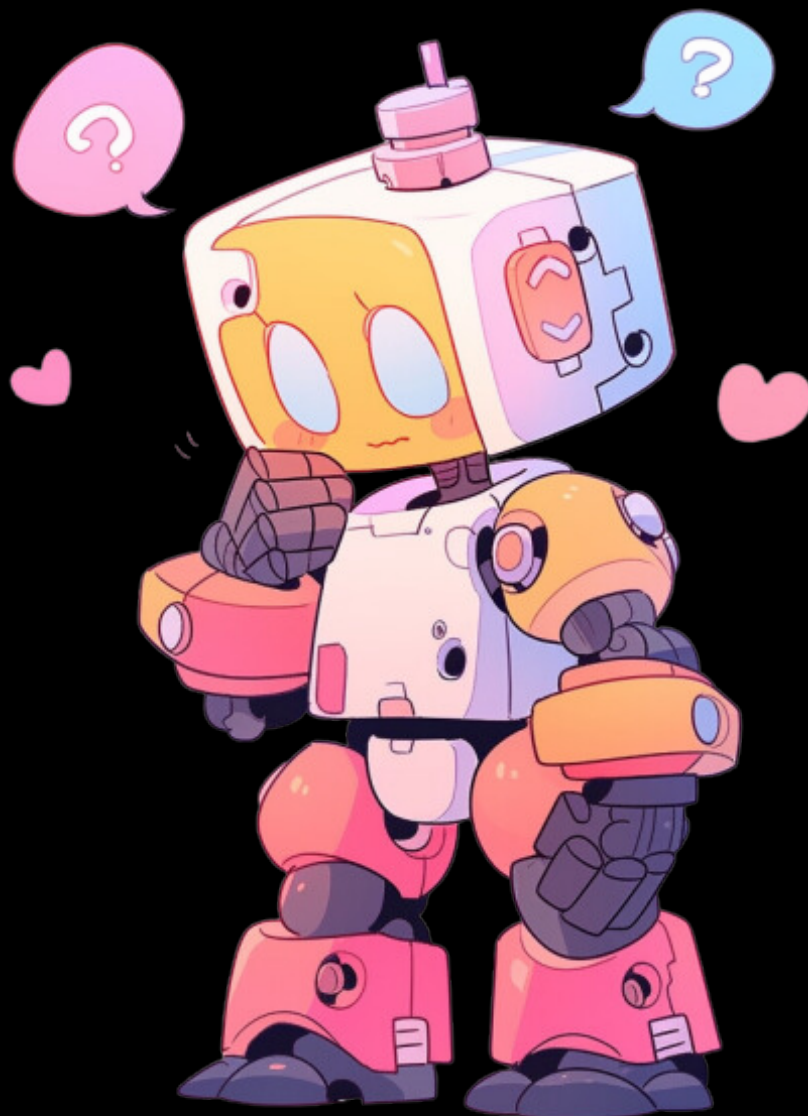

Your AI is hungry. The more data and info you feed it as part of your prompting, the stronger it gets and the more it helps you.

Tell it about your job and project every time you prompt!

Generating ideas for LinkedIn posts can be time-consuming. This prompt will provide you with a list of relevant topics, so you don't have to brainstorm from scratch.

Prompt: "Suggest 10 LinkedIn post ideas related to [industry, e.g., 'tech startups'] for the [season, e.g., 'Fall']."

Having a template for direct messages can expedite your networking process and ensure you're reaching out to connections in an effective manner.

Prompt: "Create a DM template for networking within the [industry, e.g., 'SaaS'] sector."

LinkedIn Live sessions can easily go off the rails without prep and an agenda.

Preparing the agenda in advance ensures that your virtual presentations are effective and to the point.

Prompt: "Draft an agenda for a LinkedIn Live session about [topic, e.g., 'remote work best practices']."

A well-thought-out email can make all the difference in professional partnerships. This prompt helps you nail the first impression.

Prompt: "Write an email template for reaching out to potential [sponsorships/partnerships] in the [industry, e.g., 'digital marketing']."

Time management is crucial.
Planning your week ahead of time allows you to allocate your energy wisely.

Prompt: "Generate a weekly schedule focused on content creation, networking, and personal brand building."

Without your reposts and comments, my metrics are all
