Remember to Feed your AI

Your AI is hungry. The more data and info you feed it as part of your prompting, the stronger it gets and the more it helps you.

Tell it about your job and project every time you prompt!

Ideation can be time-consuming and mentally draining. A prompt that offers diverse topic suggestions frees up time for writing and editing.

Prompt: "Generate 10 newsletter topic ideas focusing on [industry, e.g., 'green technology'] for the upcoming [month/quarter]."

Audience engagement is key in newsletter writing, and crafting compelling call-to-actions (CTAs) can drive better results.

Prompt: "Create 3 call-to-action phrases to encourage [specific action, e.g., 'subscribing'] in my next newsletter."

A meeting agenda ensures you cover all points without going off track, saving time and making the meeting more productive.

Prompt: "Draft an agenda for an editorial team meeting focusing on the [upcoming issue/theme, e.g., 'holiday season special']."

A good outreach email can make the difference in sponsorships or partnerships. Have it drafted and ready to send at a moment's notice.

Prompt: "Write an email template for securing sponsorships or collaborations in the [specific niche, e.g., 'travel']."

Understanding key performance indicators can help you refine your newsletter strategy effectively.

Prompt: "List important KPIs to measure the success of a newsletter in the [industry, e.g., 'health and wellness']."
